STILL EXPLORING!

By: Abby Hockmuel

Sage always the know the last writing & wanted to major in LA or undergrad while she knew she wanted to major in LA in undergrad, she realized she wanted to minor in social work etc through volunteering & internships she realized her passion for helping people.

SPACE MAJSTERS

Sage began writing &

WRITE BORON at our writing center at EHI in at their writing center. Here, the whole Jamaica Plain. Her family, all able to balance her family, all writing & social work all write being able to work with her favorite group of students ~ hyperactive!

Sage continued to pursue higher education at Boron college & Emory, where she received her ~~PHD~~ MEd & MFA in creative writing.

write: Boron cat

when Sage started an independent writing & teaching center out of EHI through the owner's association. the cat is 'Vivian'!

HAMDI'S EXPIORATION ... SO FAR

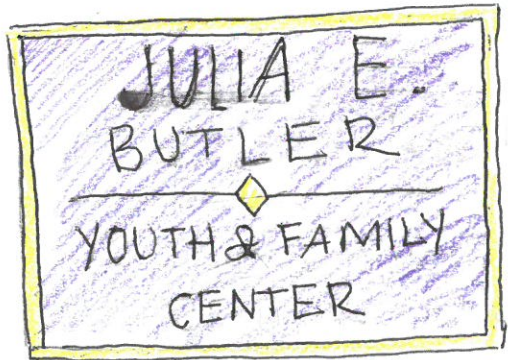

For her first semester of her undergrad she attended Quincy community college and worked at a Roxbury community center,

For the rest of her undergrad she attended UMass Lowell where she decided to major in Peace and conflict.

Immigrated to USA and began her education at Boston International,

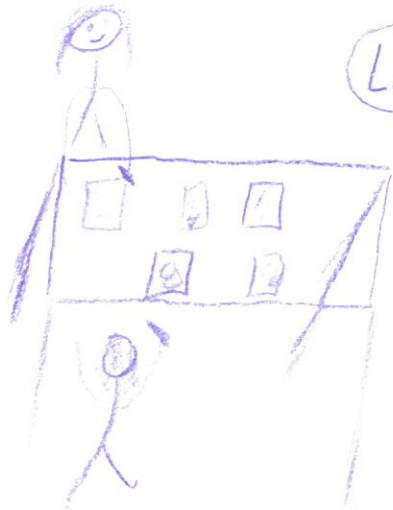

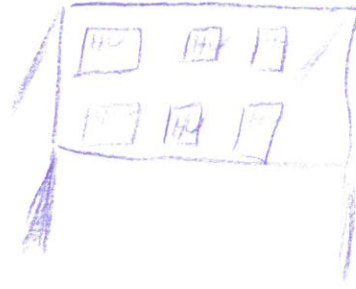

Post-grad she works at the Julia Butler Center. She knows she still would like to further her education but is excited to continue exploring!

I didnt interview anyone yet ☹
