

How could service-learning change your boring weekdays?

During Community Learning II, I had an opportunity to be an activity assistant in Little-Brothers – Friends of the Elderly. I have noticed that during my service-learning, I started to be more positive and friendlier even if I am tired.

What are the impacts of service-learning?

- More positive
 - As you become familiar with your service-learning, you will know the core values that this organization shares. This is an essential part because when you are familiar with them, you will get the joy.
- New stories and experiences
 - You have an opportunity to get to know more different stories and experiences that they used to have in the past.
- More backgrounds and new identities
 - I have never seen so many different people in one meeting. Everyone has other goals, stories that I have never heard before in my life.
